

Luxury Restaurants – England

England has many excellent restaurants located in the countryside in remote locations or near the major tourist centres.

All of the restaurants listed below provide very good or even excellent cooking and great service/ambience. Here is a sample:

- Bray on Thames The Waterside Inn
Located near the Thames. Beautiful setting, luxurious décor, great service.
Fat Duck
Great restaurant. Renowned for flavours, textures. Modern with style and excellent service.
- Cheltenham Le Champignon Sauvage
Discreet with attractive furnishings. Innovation in cooking. Modern art on the walls.
- Cambridge Midsummer House
Situated by the river. Beautiful views of the river from terrace and conservatory dining room.
- East Grinstead Gravetye Manor
Manor House from 1500s. Wood panels, open fires, antiques in this country mansion. Very good traditional food.
- Bath Priory
Built in the 1800s with beautiful gardens. Luxury, elegance, space
Cedar Tree
Georgian restaurant from times past. Next to a river and beautiful gardens, modern British influenced by the Mediterranean.

Le Manoir aux Quat'Saisons

Raymond Blanc
Le Manoir aux Quat'Saisons

- Henley-in-Arden Edmunds
Rustic, beamed cottage, refined cooking
- Royal Leamington Spa Mallory Court
Set in large gardens. Excellent dining in comfortable and elegant restaurant.
- Marlow The Hand of Flowers
Dates back to the 1800s, originally cottages, timber exterior. Attractive cuisine.
- Midsomer Norton The Moody Goose at the Old Priory
Dates back to 1100s, was a priory near a church with walled garden. Beams, fireplaces. Good modern cooking.
- Stockbridge The Greyhound
Set by a river, yellow brick pub with low beams; full of character. Good modern cooking.
- Tetbury The Trouble House
Pub with low beams, stone walls. Good classic cooking.
- Winchcombe 5 North Street
Dates back to 1600s, timbered, low beams. Good refined cooking.
- Chippenham Lucknam Park
Country manor hotel, spa. Luxurious. Traditional cuisine.