

Luxury Cycling - Ireland

Spectacular coastlines, rugged mountains, sweeping valleys, fast flowing rivers, beautiful lakes – all this is available for the cyclist on the West Coast of Ireland. Roads are either empty and isolated, busy with tourists or rush hour traffic for only a short time. The weather might well vary between sunshine, showers and rain.

Cycling in Ireland

Imagine setting off on your hired bicycle from your first class hotel with a local guide to map the way; stopping off for lunch in a local pub and arriving at the next luxury hotel for dinner either on the cycle or in the support car. The support car will carry your luggage. The journey will be arranged to cover any standard of cycling from moderate to difficult.

The cycling might well include accommodation and dining at hotels such as:

Sheen Falls Lodge

For example cycling in Connemara will be clustered around four luxury hotels in Galway/Claire and in Kerry around another four excellent hotels.
